DECLINE OF EXPORTS.

THE revised tariff has been in force for more than seven months. The figures available show that since the beginning of last October to the end of last month exports decreased $113,012,555, in comparison with the corresponding period in the previous year. At the same time imports increased $23,625,493. As a result the trade balance for the seven months ended in April was less favorable by $136,638,048 than for the same months in the previous year.

This is a very large shift, but its significance is made more impressive when it is noted that last month alone the alteration in the relation of imports and exports, compared with the April figures a year ago, converted an export balance of $53,890,849 to an import balance of $10,271,872, a total change of $64,162,721 adverse to the United States.

POSSIBLY A NEW INDUSTRY.

CHURCHILL county papers dismiss with a paragraph a report that means the addition of another industry to Nevada, if the facts are as stated. The discovery of nickel in that county would add another metal to the list of productions that have gone to make Nevada famous. Nickel is not found anywhere in the United States in paying quantities and exists as a by-product of other metals but, if there is a body of ore yielding as high as twenty percent, the value of the property cannot be overestimated. Canada has a monopoly of this metal, for which there is an ever-increasing demand. The latest customer is France, which has adopted nickel coinage to replace the ten centime clumsy copper piece that has done duty in that republic from time immemorial. The nickel deposits of Sudbury, Ontario, are regarded with such jealousy by the dominion government that parliament has long debated the expediency of placing an export duty on the product. The mines are owned by an American company which virtually controls the world's supply. If Churchill county can demonstrate the presence of nickel ore in commercial quantities the finders of the mineral will be better fixed than though they had uncovered a gold mine.

SINKING ANIMOSITIES.

THE recent action of the Round Mountain Mining company in compromising its differences with the Round Mountain Sphinx Mining company involving extra lateral rights and apex issues is to be commended. The fact that a settlement was effected out of court suggests the possibility of harmonizing the contentions of the West End-Butler companies. The tension between the latter has not reached the acute stage of the Round Mountain companies and, it is pleasant to observe that there is none of the deep personal feeling manifested in the litigation of the two companies that have concluded it is better to operate a mine for the benefit of the stockholders rather than continue to maintain a staff of expensive lawyers and mine engineers and to hypothecate the earnings of both companies for an indefinite period of time. In the Round Mountain case animosity ran so high that it led to at least one physical encounter in which a cane was broken over the head of a representative of the litigants. For attorneys' fees and engineers' expenses the defendant company incurred an expense of between $30,000 and $50,000 through searching records, proving surveys, hiring attorneys and traveling expenses. This represents the expenditures of five years where the companies were minor corporations and not of the magnitude of the Tonopah companies.

If this suit could be brought to a harmonious ending it stands to reason that other companies involved in similar straits could be induced to do the same without literally following the same course.

SQUANDERING THE FUNDS.

NOT satisfied with providing offices for every political hack out of a job the Nevada Exposition committee has engaged a press agent to blow its horn and extol the merits of the gentlemen whose chief duty seems to be how to spend the $100,000 appropriated for making a suitable display at San Francisco. At the present rate of progress most of the money is going into salaries and the commission is sitting up nights striving to invent new ways for diverting the state funds from their proper channel. Sam C. Dunham, lately of the New York Mining Age, has been employed to press agent the doings of the Nevada board and his first contribution has come to hand with a blatant boost for George T. Mills, who is credited with preparing a display that will be a "revelation" to the denizens of the sagebrush when they go down to the bay to find how badly their state has been misrepresented. This system of doing business does not go with the Bonanza, which stands pat on the former proposition that such matters belong to the advertising columns, where they will be handled at regular card rates. A ludicrous feature is the appeal to the taxpayers of the state to come to the assistance of the commission with voluntary contributions that will save the army of retainers and array of superintendents from doing anything at all to earn their salaries. If the mine operators, stock-growers, farmers and manufacturers are to be cajoled into doing the work for which others are paid it is mildly suggested that the board might assign the entire proceedings to volunteers and dismiss the hired help that is doing yeoman's service in eating up the appropriation without making any return.

The New York Sun says the recent overwhelming Republican vote in Pennsylvania is due to the following Democratic acts: "A tariff that has decreased exportations, increased importation of manufactured articles, a tariff for revenue that has produced a deficiency of revenues; the Democratic policy of muddle-and-mar, foreign and domestic; fool attacks on business here and an unintelligible grotesque shuffling hamstrung spineless policy as to Mexico."

"General" Rosalie Jones, the tramping suffragette who walked to Washington, is coming to Nevada in a varnished car to open a campaign. What about that talk of imported talent the franchise society indulged in recently?

The suffragettes have succeeded in buffaloing the British lion. Queen Mary threatens to leave London abruptly if there are any more suffragette demonstrations in the vicinity of royalty.

When President Wilson went to Princeton for his class reunion he ceased to be president and became an old grad. It was to exchange patent pumps for easy slippers.

In searching for a man to take the place of Huerta, the mediators have almost as hard a task as Diogenes had in seeking for an honest man.

Baseball fans are complaining that the game is not what it used to be. Neither is mother's ginger cake.

Just now there appears to be an awful lot of briars and thorns growing along the paths of peace.

While we are swatting the fly the flies are busy swatting the ice cream cones.

All the world's a stage, and the Democratic party is robbing the stage.

Huerta will soon be one of the interesting ruins of Mexico.

We can hear Huerta tittering while he is tottering.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER.

At the Butler this evening an unusually strong programme will be shown, as follows: "The Fight on the Deadwood Trail," a Kalem western drama; "Bunny's Scheme," a Vitagraph comedy, and a Lubin two-reel drama, "In the North Land."

On account of the atmosphere, this picture will be much appreciated, as the scenes were taken in mid-winter in northern Canada. The story is very interesting, telling a tale of intense love and wonderful heroism of a stout-hearted French-Canadian whose wife is on the point of deserting him for a cowardly city weakling who has fascinated her with his empty refinement. Tomorrow, five reels showing the fifth number of the "Perils of Pauline," and Hearst-Selig news pictorial. Saturday, "The Salvation of Nance O'Shaughnessy," a two-reel Selig.—Adv.
